

Public Welfare Activities - Resume health check-up

With the threat of global economic recession and the widening gap between the rich and the poor, disadvantaged families suffer from lack of materials, lack of children's competitiveness training, and insufficient living conditions, showing the living needs of disadvantaged families...

Public welfare activities resume health check

In response to the Taipei Family Support Center's activities to help all families and provide daily necessities to assist children such as single parents or intergenerational families, Sysgration cooperates with STP20 to invite college students to participate in public welfare resume health check activities!

Through small donations, students not only can get tips on resume writing, important job-seeking matters, and first-hand information on Sysgration companies, but also personally help families, care for children and benefit the society~~~
